HARDISTY BROTHERS.

SAVED BY A "RINGOGRAM."

Some years ago my life and $20,000 belonging to my partner, Jim Bigney, and myself, were saved, and a gang of robbers broken up, by means of an electric bell. Jim and I had been telegraph operators, but had abandoned the business for mining. We had luck in prospecting, and after a few years had sold our claims for $27,360, of which we took $7,300 in promissory notes, and started East with the balance, chiefly in bank-notes.

It appears that three outlaws learned the real value of our old trunks and contents. I left Jim at the clerk's desk of a new fangled hotel in a Western town and followed the parties as they carried the baggage to the front end of our room on the fourth floor. After dismissing them I had shut the door, neglecting to look it, however, and had turned to the washstand, behind, when I heard the door swing slowly open behind me.

Thinking it was Jim, I rinsed the lather from my eyes, and turned, only to find a man holding a six-shooter in my face, another blocking the door, and a third making a break for the trunk. I wanted at first to argue the matter from a standpoint of morality, and so enquired what right they had to disturb me in dressing. But the man with the gun remarked, "Might make things all right stranger, and this is might," tapping his weapon with the disengaged hand. I felt that the silent instrument in his hand was a deeper, a more potent argument I could advance under existing circumstances.

"Back him up to the wall and keep him covered until we get the stuff, and then we'll slit his throat and 'lope resumed the leader.

Although the programme did not just suit me, I acquiesced, as far as the wall.

'Put your hands behind you," tersely commanded my slouch-hatted jailer.

I did, when a happy thought struck me. My right hand had come in contact with a knob, which I recognized as the electric bell which communicated with the office. This was a feature of civilization the robbers were not posted about. Unobserved by them, I began sending the following message:

"JIM—Three robbers have the door locked, and are just waiting to get our stuff and murder me. Get a man and step ladder, and don't make a sign of noise; put a gun through the transom and shoot. Be quick and careful

JOHN."

My only hope was that Jim might be still lounging where I left him, in which case his ear would quickly catch on. There was a chance in a hundred, and I began to sweat very freely. But I started repeating the message, and was nearly through, when bang, bang, two shots were fired from over the door, and the man, who had not been hit, turned just enough to let me hit him back of the ear with my right hand, the force or despair, and the knowledge of being on the right side at last. It would be painting it a shade light to say we had sprung a surprise party on the visitors. I had a gun in a moment, and kept the thieves at bay until the two men outside got in and tied them up, except the leader, who was as dead as ever a man gets to be. The other wounded one died in a hospital three months afterward, and my jailer was killed in an attempt to escape from jail about the same time.

As I had expected, when the bell began ringing the message in the office Jim was there and commenced taking it. The clerk gazed in such astonishment that he forgot to start a boy up to answer it for a minute, when Jim pulled his gun and remarked,

"The first man that leaves this room gets all I've got here in the neck."

When he had got the "ringogram," as he afterwards termed it, he rapidly explained, cautioned everybody else not to follow, took a drummer he had met on the train, snatched a step-ladder, and as soon as he could climb around the job was done.

THE READING ROOM.

To the Editor of the Times

DEAR SIR,—The Fraser entertainment has demonstrated beyond all doubt that times in Prince Albert are not so hard as many would try and have us believe. It was a goodly sight to see the regular church goer, the deacon and the elder, each elbowing the others for place in the crowded hall and the only unpleasant feature of the whole thing was that many of those highly moral people refused even a 25c. support to the entertainment given for one of the towns few charitable institutions; but such is life. It has again been demonstrated the best pretenders are not always the most generous to the poor. As a citizen of the town, a subscriber to the rooms and one who enjoys all its advantages. I say that the gentlemen who are taking so great an interest in keeping it open are not receiving from the public that support the merits of the Free Reading Room entitles them in in. It is reported that no more public efforts will be made; let all hope that such is not the case. It is hard work, no doubt, but it is a worthy work; but let another entertainment be gone on with. I believe the people can be induced to fill the hall.

POOR MAN.

RED DEER HILL

Our school examination was held on Wednesday, December 18th; a number of visitors and school officers being present. The examination passed off well, the pupils doing credit both to themselves and teacher. At the close John Hutson and others gave addresses expressing themselves well pleased with the work done during the summer and fall.

Quite a number of our young people took in the party at Mr. Geo. Thompson's on Friday December 20th, and all report having enjoyed themselves immensely.

The scarcity of snow this winter is proving a boon to those whose quantity of hay is limited. Many horses and some cattle are still running out.

Mabel Lincoln is the last to follow the exodus from this part. She will stay in your town for some time.

A concert in the school house on the 27th inst., was the latest, not to say the only sensation.

Jack Reid was out last week looking after the wintering of stock owned by him.

Messrs. Gange and Spooner are getting out fencing material.

Rod. Cooke has gone into town for the winter.

Queenie Giles is home for vacation.

The Manitoba Free Press in speaking of the Uxbridge Piano says: They are genuine works of art, and reflect the highest credit upon the firm which has produced them. The old style of upright pianos is thrown into the shade. The Uxbridge Piano has a continuous book rack which will be appreciated in the playing of duets; sitting down to the piano the performer touches a lever and the keyboard is uncovered, and the hinges of the lid turn out of sight, and the instrument presents the same artistic appearance when open as when shut. The Organs manufactured by the Uxbridge company have been in use for over twenty years, and require no special description as they are so well-known and liked in the homes of the thousands over the whole world. However, the company is manufacturing a six Oct. Organ in Piano case which is having a wonderful sale. The Pianos made by the Uxbridge Piano Co. are a credit to Canadian enterprise, being equal in tone, durability and finish to the best American.

Mr. John Flett, Sr., of Stony Creek who had his arm crushed some time ago was compelled to have the limb amputated. Dr. Spence performed the operation on Friday last. Notwithstanding the old gentleman's age and the fact that blood poisoning had already set in, he stood the severe operation remarkably well and is now progressing favorably.

Our 10 cent Candy and Sovereign Spoons are the talk of the town. Geo. W. Baker.

PRINCE ALBERT, DEC. 31, 1895.

A HAPPY NEW YEAR.

The year 1895 has run its course, and we are about entering another landmark of time. The year that is now past has been one of general prosperity at home and abroad, and with few exceptions it has been a year of peace among the nations, although there have been many threatenings of national and social disturbances. But we cannot tell what is in the womb of the future. To all thinking men the outlook is not at all reassuring. It is a general belief that the world is on the eve of some tremendous explosion, or upheaval of society. From ancient history we learn that at the time of our Saviour's advent upon earth there was a general expectation that some great personage was to appear and marvellously change the then existing order of things. Never since that time has there been such an expectation for mighty change as there is at this present period of the world's history. It is as the Scriptures expresses it as the time when "men's hearts are failing them in fear of the things that are coming upon the earth." We hold in our possession the opinion of no less than six deeply educated men of different nations who say that we are within two or three years of the greatest cataclysm the world has ever seen since the deluge. It is said that what every body says must be true, and if this holds good we are certainly nearing the end of the present dispensation. The universal arming of the nations is a sign that there is a spirit of unrest abroad which may culminate in disastrous war. But all things are in the hands of an over-ruling Providence, and in view of that fact we can rest secure that all things will end well for him that does well in whatsoever station he may be placed. We will therefore take the world as it comes, and at this season of good wishes, we heartily extend the hand of good fellowship to all, friend and foe alike, wishing each and all A HAPPY NEW YEAR.

Benjamin Franklin declared that every manufacturer encouraged in a country makes part of a market for provisions within the country itself, and saves so much money to the country itself, and saves so much money to the country, as must otherwise be exported, to pay for the manufactures he supplies. The idea of protection could not be more tersely put.

A Toronto post-office clerk has been sentenced to three years and a half in penitentiary, for stealing letters. Stealing letters is one of the easiest crimes a public employe can commit, and, if he persists in it, one of the most certain to be detected. There are a score of men in the penitentiary to bear testimony that this statement is correct.

According to Leader Hayward, the Patrons of Industry have resolved to admit the public to their meetings, and to remove the restrictions that prevented some classes of citizens and some professional men from becoming members of the order. It is doubtful, though, if this will cause a great rush to the Hayward ranks. There is an idea that the Patron bolt has been shot without hitting the mark, and that it is not worth while looking for it to make another trial.

Lord Salisbury's remarks, as to the defects of arbitration as a method of terminating international disputes, that "the task of insuring compliance with the award, when it is made, is not exempt from difficulty," seems to refer, not obscurely, to the refusal of the United States to pay the just claim of the British Columbia sealers under the Paris award. The enthusiasm of the United States for arbitration is confined to attempting to force it down other people's throats when the United States has nothing to lose.

Miss Alice Stewart left yesterday morning on an extended visit to the old country. Her destination is Edinburgh, Scotland, where she will reside for at least a year with relatives. We wish the young lady a pleasant voyage, a pleasant visit, and a safe return.

The war blutter of our neighbors across the line is beginning to simmer down to common sense, as we thought it would. Cleveland and his tuteremalion Irish whose favor he is courting, begin to find that John is not very easily scared, and that it will require more men and more money than the United States can command to drive England from her righteous position. The more sensible Americans begin to see that Cleveland has made an ass of himself and considerably lowered his reputation as a first-class statesman. We have often heard of the glorious liberty that is to be found under the folds of the American flag, but if this unwarranted and uncalled for ebullition of nonsense from the chief magistrate of that nation is a specimen, we would not call it liberty, but rather unbridled license hardly worthy of a patent medicine vendor in the street corners.

The bye-elections for the Dominion have at this time taken a different course from general expectations, and gave us to wonder what will turn up next. Cardwell has returned a McCarthyite, which goes to show that this election was fought out upon the Manitoba school question which we will take as a fair index of what public opinion will be in Ontario on that question. Mr. Laurier has gained Montreal Centre which is a surprise to many, but this is only a passing accident which we have no doubt will be fully compensated for in the near future. Meanwhile Mr. Laurier is meandering around from post to pillar like a ship without a rudder, in an useless way without any definite plan of of government. But however we need not fret over that as we suspect he will have ample time to formulate a platform before he will have any opportunity of putting his plans into effect. As for the prospect of his guiding the helm of state in the Dominion Government, the realization of this is very remote indeed

Free to every reader of this paper:—A book on Fancy Work which contains 50 illustrations. Among them are designs for sofa pillows, table covers, scarfs, tray cloths, doilies, celluoid Work, tapestry, painting and embroidery. Directions are given how to make lamp shades, scrap baskets, photograph stands and a variety of fancy articles. Also another book telling how to make all kinds of mats and rugs, numbering 65 in all. These two books will be sent you free if you will send ten cents for a three months' trial subscription to "The Home" a 16 page paper containing original stories, fashions, fancy work, etc.,—the cheapest and best paper published. Send to the publishers 141 Milk St., Boston, Mass., and get the paper and the two books. When writing ask for their illustrated Premium List, sent free to any address.

It is announced that the Canadian Presbyterian will commence with the 1st of January its twenty-fifth year of publication. This paper has gradually grown from small beginnings, until now it is realized as second to any religious journal in the Dominion. Its columns have always commanded the best talent in the large and influential gathering it so worthily represents, and for the coming year all the old time favorites are retained while a number of new writers have promised to contribute to the various departments of the paper. The "make up" of the Presbyterian is simple and comprehensive. Its table of contents each week falls under the following headings, viz:—Notes of the week, Our Contributors, Teacher and Scholar, Christian Endeavor, Pastor and People, the Family Circle, Our Young Folks, the Missionary World, Health and Household Hints, British and Foreign, among with a strong editorial page. The yearly subscription continues at $2.00; but any of our readers who desire club rates should write the office, 5 Jordan St., Toronto.

Rev. Mr. Williams Heartily Endorses Hood's Sarsaparilla.

We are pleased to present this from Rev. A. A. Williams, of the Sillsbee street Christian Church, Lynn, Mass.:

"I see no reason why a clergyman, more than a layman, who knows whereof he speaks, should hesitate to approve an

and worth, from which he or his family has been signally benefited, and whose position may serve to extend those benefits by leading them to procure it. My wife has for many years been a sufferer from

for which she found little help. She has tried many things that promised well but performed little. Last Fall a friend gave her a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It seems surprising what nearly one bottle could and did do for her. The attacks of headache decreased in number and were less violent in their intensity, while her general health has been improved. Her appetite has also been better. From our experience with

Hood's Sarsaparilla

I have no hesitation in endorsing its merits."

BEAUTIFUL PICTURE FREE

The Winnipeg Weekly Tribune,

The biggest, brightest and best family newspaper published in Canada west of Lake Superior, is again to the front with an unparalleled offer. The balance of the paper for this year is given free to all new subscribers for 1896—that is $1 secures the paper from now to the first of January, 1897. Besides this great offer the publishers are presenting every subscriber for the coming year with a magnificent premium picture entitled

"THE FAMILY PETS"

This picture has been painted specially for The Tribune by one of the best lithographic artists in Canada and would sell in the open market for more than the amount asked for both the paper and the picture. It is a work of art that will adorn the walls of any drawing room. It can be obtained only by subscribers to The Weekly Tribune. It will be ready for distribution about the beginning of November and will be sent to subscribers in the order in which subscriptions are received. The Weekly Tribune—the great family paper of the Northwest and the champion of the people's rights—for 15 months and this beautiful picture, all for one dollar. Send in your orders now. Address:

Cough Cures

Often did it wrongly. The whole effort was to stop the cough, which usually meant drying it up. A remedy that stops it just quick enough is the one that never minds the cough but goes to the seat of trouble in the air passages and airs it. Our is such a remedy. It cures promptly and when the cough departs you may know that everything is cured.

It stimulates the secretions, equalizes the circulation, removes the nervous irritation, assists nature to overcome the trouble in the natural way. Price 50c.

The Dominion House of Parliament meets on Thursday next for the dispatch of business.

Don't forget the watch-night service in the Salvation Army barracks to-night, commencing at 10:30.

The St. Alban's Church Sunday School holds its Christmas tree entertainment Thursday afternoon next in the town hall.

Watch night services will be held in the Episcopal and Methodist churches of the town commencing at 10:30 o'clock

At the Prince Albert Hotel—M. Macaulay, S. Macaulay, Willoughby; R. Hoey, P. Bisnau lt, Boucher; Major Hoey, W. Hoey, Brancepeth; R. Watson, Melfort; J. Wentworth, Carrot River; C. Halcro, Halcro.

Don't forget that you can get $1 worth of goods for 80 cents at Geo. W. Baker's this month.

Friday evening last the children of the Presbyterian Sunday School held their annual Christmas Tree. A fine programme of music, etc., had been prepared and was enjoyed by all present.

J. E. Spence, V.S., who has been residing in the Melfort district for some time, will resume his residence in the town in a couple of weeks time. After that time he can be found at the office of Dr. Spence.

Ladies, don't forget to see the Jackets and Trimmed Hats at F. C. Baker's.

Last week an entertainment of music, recitations, etc., was given in the Methodist church to the children of the Sunday school. This evening the programme will be repeated and no doubt be as well appreciated as on the first occasion.

There was a good attendance of worshippers at the Christmas Day services held in St. Alban's church. The services were choral and were well rendered. The rector preached an eloquent sermon suitable to the occasion, and was attentively listened to throughout. The church had been decorated with evergreens, mottoes, etc., for the occasion, and looked very pretty indeed. After the conclusion of the sermon the Holy Sacrament was administered to a large number of the congregation.

On Sunday evening last one of the largest congregations that has as yet filled St. Paul's Presbyterian church assembled to hear the farewell words of Rev. W. M. Rochester dastor of the church who had accepted a call to another field of labor. In order to meet again together and for the last time, the members of the Methodist church had decided to forego service in their own church and were present in a body. their pastor, Rev. Mr. Cooke, obcupying a seat near the pulpit. After the usual prayers and hymns had been rendered the Rev. Mr. Rochester preached an eloquent and impressive sermon to his hearers. At the conclusion Rev. Mr. Cocke read an address on behalf of the members of the Methodist church, and Mr. Stall read one from the members of Rupert Council, R.T. of T. of which the rev. gentleman and Mrs. Rochester were honored members, each of which referred in flattering terms to the esteem in which they were held by both bodies. Mr. Rochester in replying to both addresses thanked the members for their many kind references to himself and wife saying he was glad to know that during his stay of five years he had always had the strong support of his whole congregation and of the people of other denominations with whom he had came in contact. After the benediction had been pronounced those present took their departure through the vestry door in order that they might shake hands and say good-by to the rev. gentleman and his estimable lady. The rev. gentleman and family left yesterday morning, for Toronto, where he had accepted a call to another congregation and where we hope all success may attend his labors.

The mirror back which is to be put up in Fleming's drug store is, we think, the handsomest piece of wood work we have seen in town and reflects great credit on the builder, W. T. Gilmour.

As may be seen by posters, nominations for a mayor and six councillors will be held in the Council Chamber on Jan. 6th next from 10 a.m. till 12 o'clock noon. As yet there is a scarcity of candidates in the field, but who can tell what a day may bring forth in these matters.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Hamilton came in from Duck Lake last week, where Mr. Hamilton had been engaged during the season in the erection of buildings for the Stobart Co. They will leave this week for the east and will visit Mrs. Hamilton's parents in Quebec and probably Mr. Hamilton's home in Nova Scotia.

At the Queen's—Mollie Jeffries, Baby Marjorie, Nellie Granville, Minnie Abbott, Ivy Summers, Horace Noble, Harry Wall, W. W. Stedman Jno. Brownelle, J. McCormack, J. Cragg, T. F. Conyn, A. G. Fraser, Fraser Dramatic Co.; W. H. Meyers, W. W. Kearns, Kinistino; M. McDonald, C. Halcro, Halcro; J. B. Boucher Boucher; Wm. Gordon, St. Louis de Langevin; R. Casimir Dickson, Toronto; W. W. Stewart, Brandon.

The Fraser Dramatic Co. opened a weeks engagement here Wednesday evening last in "Rose Garland" which was well put on and played from start to finish. Mr. Fraser as farmer Garland and Miss Jeffries as Rose Garland would be hard to beat, while their support from the other members was excellent each being well up in their parts. The house was a crowded and appreciative one, which has been the occasion every evening since their arrival here. The Saturday matinee for the little ones was well attended, when "Jane" a very amusing play was presented. At the conclusion presents were give to each, and one and all made happy. Mr. Fraser has a good company, all capital actors and actresses, playing good wholesome plays, and deserve hearty support.

In the absence of Bishop Pascal, Rev. Father Michel officiated at midnight mass held in the R.C. Cathedral on Christmas Eve, assisted by Rev Fathers Barbien and Gabillion. The mass was sung by the rev. Mothers of St. Anne's convent and was of a high class and beautifully rendered. The decorations and illuminations were remarkably fine. A very large number of communicants presented themselves at the communion table. The collection was taken up by the Misses Flanagan and Delargorgendiere accompanied by Messrs. G. R. Russell and Fred. Flanagan. The large edifice was completely filled by people of all denominations.

The installation of the officers of Kinistino Lodge, A.F. & A.M. took place in the Masonic Hall, Prince Albert on the 27th inst., with the following for the ensuing year:—W. M., D. C. McLellan; S. W., C. O. Davidson; J. W., J. McTaggart; Treas T. J. Agnew; Secy., James Stewart; Tyler, I. McCaul; I. G., R. B. Harley Chap., R. B. Way; S. D., R. T. Goodfellow; S. S., J. F. Betts; D. C. T. E. Baker; Organist, Geo. C. McLeod. At the conclusion of the ceremony a handsome Past Masters Jewel was presented to Bro. J. M. Coombs the retiring master, by the brethren of the Lodge as a mark of esteem for his faithful service as master for the past three years.

The January number of the Delineator is called the winter holiday number, the fashion articles for the month are timely and complete, covering the entire field of style for ladies, misses and children. millinery, lingerie, dress goods and trimmings. The rich holiday display in the shops is interestingly described. Mrs. Roger A. Pryor's article on the social code relative to society balls and parties for children. The space devoted to womens' work and advancement includes a thoughtful conversation between Edith M. Thomas, and Dr. S. R. Elliot on women in business, an interesting paper by Miss Margaret McNaughton discussing architecture as a profession women, a graphic description by L. C. M. Robbins of womens' work on the Atlanta exposition, Harriet Keith Forbes directions for decorations on cardboard, and the continuation of Sara Miller Kirby's kindergarten articles. The first of a brief series of papers on the care of the teeth, by a well dnown New York dentist will be found exceptionally good. Mrs. A.B. Longstreet describes the carving of meats, and in seasonable cookery impromptu luncheon menus receive attention. In Mrs. Witherspoon's tea table gossip are noted some new home made holiday gifts. The review of holiday publications includes many particularly intended for young readers. The novelties in knitting, tatting crocheting and lace-making are illustrated and described. Subscription price of the Delineator $1.00 per year or 15c per single copy. Address the Delineator Publishing Co. of Toronto, Limited; 33 Richmond St., West, Toronto, Ont.

ENTERTAINMENT.

The contrast in so far as attendance went was most distinct as between the Free Reading Room entertainment and the one given by the Fraser Co. In the first case scores of chairs were without occupants and in the second placed scores of people were without chairs. Mr. Betts as president of the Free Reading Room, very properly remarked that only those that took an active part in the work knew anything about the difficulties of keeping up a charity work in Prince Albert. He further stated that when it became a serious question as to whether the committee would in the face of the limited support tendered be justified in keeping the Rooms any longer open Mrs. Cooke had come to the rescue by offering the entertainment. This clinched the matter and the Free Reading Room was through her generosity a fixed institute of the town for at least the present year. The entertainment was opened by an instrumental piece, most successfully given by Mrs White and Mr. Way, after which Mrs. Cooke was formally introduced to the audience and small though the audience was the hearty reception she received from those present must have been most gratifying to her. The entertainment marks a date that will be long remembered by those present. They heard a beautiful tale delightfully read and suffered, owing to the kindly attention of the town officials all the agonies of an intensely cold hall.

During the evening Mrs. Rochester Miss McLellan and Miss Kidd treated those present to some choice selections of music. All present were high in their praises not only of Mrs. Cooke's ability as a reader but of her generous assistance to the funds of the Institute.

To Canadians Abroad

From the "Canadian-American," Chicago.

The Toronto Daily Mail, the great Canadian paper, is now giving in its Saturday edition a grand series of pictures and descriptions of the battles and victories of Great Britain. The will form a very interesting historical series, and should be in the hands of everybody with British blood in its veins.

Those battles have their place in the history of the world, and the narratives of them have been written in many languages. But these thrilling epochs have an especial interest to those whose forefathers took part in them. The sons of many an American family time and in Britain's sea girt land, and the story of Britain's heroes should be in the hands of their descendants. The engravings are from drawings by R. Caton Woodville, the most popular illustrator in the world.

The Saturday edition of The Daily Mail is sent post paid to any address in the United States for $2 a year. Address Mail, Toronto, Canada.
